

“My biggest milestone was getting two goals medals in engineering and right after that, even before I graduated, I applied for Unilever. I got an offer from them and I thought that was one huge achievement on my part because the recruitment procedure is very tough and it really selects the best from the country.”